Aqua Nor Conference

On Monday 21 August, the exhibition week kicks off with the Aqua Nor Conference "More food from the oceans – Contributing to the green shift through expanding aquaculture production".

"This year we present a professional program that emphasize the importance of the marine resources found in the sea, and how expanding aquaculture production is contributing to the green shift. This is a very relevant topic, not only in Norway, but also in a global perspective", says Karl Andreas Almås, special adviser and aquaculture expert at SINTEF Ocean and co-organizer of the conference.

This year's program

The conference is divided into three distinct parts, with many interesting topics. The program will be updated continuously with topics and speakers. All lectures is held in English.
